I have an Acer Aspire V3-571G (with Windows 10 pre-installed). The BIOS is a lot older. I've tried unsuccessfully, to find my USB disks to install Ubuntu MATE 16.04. My SSD is a Hitachi Travelstar TS520211TL-R I've tried 2 different USB disks, and they both have the exact same symptoms: 2 different drives work (USB only - not installed, I first tried with an older USB drive

I had lying around, same error as above) The Installer says that the drive is too new, or too old, or the kernel can't handle it The drive is recognized by other operating systems (namely Windows) I've tried modifying the parameters in the booting options
What is the problem here? A: There is a definite problem with your Hitachi Travelstar TS 3e33713323
