I am a graphic designer who has the skills to execute truly successful projects. The little things count in a project, and I am seeking jobs with no more than 500 KB of material to be delivered per project. I will complete your project on time and under budget. Ebay'S customer service is what you make it, the same customer service can be provided from me. I love what I do, I love the details that make things great, I love the people I work with, and I love doing projects for YOU. I need to be involved in the project and your desires in order to give you the satisfaction you deserve and I make sure that I am. If you are looking for serious attention to details, I am your girl. I have a small studio setting up in my home, there will be little to no distractions, that is your office. A scream from your dog is acceptable, as long as I do not hear it. I will be waiting for you, not the other way around. Portfolio I have a simple and clean portfolio that will attract any designer. Not much to show, just a few samples of my style and layout skills. I can do simple as well as complex designs in a unique style that I provide. Thank you for your time and consideration. If you do decide to work with me, please be aware that I will see work done after the job is posted on the net, and if I really like it I will call you back. There are no nasty surprises. I will follow my heart, integrity and talent, and all of my work will have unique qualities and results of pure creativity. I provide a great product/service with a great attitude! I love my job and feel blessed to be able to do what I love everyday. I am available, flexible and will work within your budget! Thank you for taking the time to look through my work, I truly appreciate it! I look forward to hearing from you :) My design style is lively, colorful, and whimsical. I always strive to create something completely unique with my work and I want my designs to reflect the personality and style of the client. My mission
