I have the following code and cant get why my variable state can access methods of OtherClass but not from it. What am I doing wrong? public class OtherClass { public void methodName(){ } } public class HelloWorld{ public OtherClass state; public void run(){ state.methodName(); //working fine //but this: state.methodName(); //failed to compile(Invalid use of non-static method) } } A: You have to be careful with where you use state. Although it's public, state is at the object level (not at the class level). This means that in the second example the outer method is using an instance of the object where the state variable exists, and not the variable itself. Thus, to use it, you'll need to create an instance of HelloWorld. public static void main(648931e174
