During gameplay, HyperMotion delivers a player's body weight, speed and lateral movement, while applying in-match tactics and the exact player characteristics that you desire. The highly-detailed HyperMotion technology can enhance the movement of your player and allow him to run at full speed, make quick changes of direction and jump higher than you ever thought possible. FIFA 22 introduces "Action Moments," a feature that allows players to be in the right place at the right time in order to make life-defining, game-changing moments for their team. Players can be directly involved in these moments through in-game celebrations, such as scoring, winning a free kick or giving a great assist. Action Moments also allows players to progress in the game by acting in one of FIFA's various collectible challenges that will be introduced during a player's career. In addition, FIFA 22 introduces "Move It Like Beckham," which allows players to mimic their famous former Manchester City teammate and world-class footballer David Beckham. Move It Like Beckham will be fully integrated into FIFA 22's press training routine, assists and Player Impact. During game-play and press, players can use the tool to control the movement and speed of a player in the same way he does in real life. Features Include: "Action Moments" - create a moment that will be remembered for a long time by inviting the game to make a lasting impact. - create a moment that will be remembered for a long time by inviting the game to make a lasting impact.
