FIFA is back in Fifa 22 Download With Full Crack, EA SPORTS FIFA is a football simulation that puts you in control of your favorite real-world players or your FIFA 21 squad. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a method of fabricating a light-emitting diode. 2. Description of the Related Art In recent years, a flat panel display (FPD) such as an organic electroluminescent (EL) display and a liquid crystal display (LCD) has been developed. In particular, a light-emitting diode (LED) has been expected to be applied to a next-generation display and illumination. Since LEDs have been expected as a light source in such applications, development of the LEDs has been actively under way. The LED is obtained by applying an electric current to a semiconductor element such as gallium nitride, gallium phosphide, or gallium arsenide. The crystal of the semiconductor element may be formed into a thick film, e.g., 10 μm or more, in a wafer shape. The LED may emit, e.g., an ultraviolet ray or blue light by recombination of an electron and a positive hole injected into the semiconductor element. A fine process can be applied to the substrate, since the semiconductor element is formed in a wafer shape. Therefore, the LED may be applied to, e.g., a light source for a large-scale display, and illumination for a backlight for a liquid crystal display. The mounting area of the LED is limited to about a $1 \times 1 \text{ mm}^2$ per LED. Accordingly, an attempt has been made to fabricate a plurality of LEDs at the same time by increasing the area of the substrate. In order to realize a large-sized screen, e.g., a display of 40-inch class, a technique of mounting a plurality of LEDs on a substrate has been under development. Among the displays of 40-inch class, an edge-light type display using an edge-light source is expected to be applied to an in-vehicle application. FIGS. bc9d6d6daa
