In India, a college beauty pageantry competition is fast approaching, and it is to be held in the infamous Aarushi's resort of Chitkabarti, Uttar Pradesh. It is an annual cultural fest, where the students of the village gather together and compete in various competitions. The final event of the festival, a dance competition was to be held on the last day of the program. On this day, Mr. Preetham, the host of the fest was to watch some really good performances. As he went to the dance floor, a participant was on display. Owing to a mysterious reason, the dance could not be concluded in time and the next contestant was up next. Before this contestant started dancing, there was some discussion about the condition of the platform. More than that, some of the students in the audience stated that the platform was rather shaky. The contestants mentioned that the dance floor was a bit shaky, but the fear of being disqualified from the competition was more important to them. Within 10 minutes, the next dance ended. Thus, it was announced that the third dance would not be held on that day. The next day, the contestants of the third dance were informed about the cancellation of the dance competition. But seeing no other option, the next contestant proceeded to dance on the concrete floor. She told the audience that the dancing competition would be of limited time and it was good to practice the dance on a shaky platform. By then, the audience heard what happened the previous day, and there were murmurs of disapproval. However, the dance
