Natural history of impacted wisdom teeth and pre-eruptive decompensation. The objective of this work was to investigate the prevalence and natural history of impacted third molar crowding and the relationship between this and pre-eruptive decompensation. Two hundred and four individuals who attended a secondary orthodontic service for treatment of crowded or malpositioned teeth were examined for evidence of pre-eruptive decompensation. The prevalence of pre-eruptive decompensation was 14% and no significant differences were seen between genders. Pre-eruptive decompensation was more likely in subjects with larger incisor overjet (P= 0.007). The prevalence of third molar impaction (incisor impactions) was 50%. The natural history of impacted wisdom teeth was determined by comparing the position of the tooth in the follicle at presentation with its position in the follicle at orthodontic re-exposure. In the majority of cases the follicles were unchanged in position. Only four teeth were resorbed and three had taken a pathological position in the follicle. Twenty-one percent of subjects showed evidence of pre-eruptive decompensation. The majority of impacted wisdom teeth developed normally and only a small proportion required surgical intervention. The results do not support the inference that third molar impaction is indicative of pre-eruptive decompensation.Arnold, New Mexico Arnold was a U.S. village and was located in the Southeast portion of northern New Mexico.
