Command(s):mv, remove, remove -rf Bellow discussion of using OP's IP address and other details: The files were transferred to the local computer of the alleged infringer and can be found in the following directory: C:\Users\andy\Desktop\MEGA_FECHA You can view the individual files in the following directory where files were found and their content listed: \Andy\Desktop\WESTERN_FECHA You can download the files using IP 66.249.72.25 Considering IP address 66.249.72.25 has been identified as the IP address for the user who transferred the files, there is very good reason to believe that user is the person who is claiming to be the alleged infringer. Given that it is very unlikely that an innocent person would have access to the user's computer, it is probable that the user is the alleged infringer. However, the IP address 66.249.72.25 is used by many people and it is therefore impossible to conclusively determine if this IP is the IP address of the alleged infringer. IP addresses are assigned to devices that use the Internet. This includes the internet as well as mail servers, routers, web servers, etc. that are used to access the internet. Because IP addresses are used by so many people, there is a possibility that the user of IP address 66.249.72.25 is someone else. This is because many users connect to the Internet using different IP addresses and it is impossible to determine the one used to access the file sharing website. If there is a negative response to an allegedly infringing user's counter-notice, the U.S. Copyright Office will use the IP address 66.249.72.25 to search the Copyright Office's Copyright Takedown Notification records. For copyright owners, if IP 66.249.72.25 is assigned to the alleged infringer, it is an acceptable method to identify the identity of the user. IP 66.249.72.25 appears to have been connected to the Western_FECHA directory in which the illegal content was located. If the user who is claiming to be the alleged infringer uses a different IP address than 66.249.72.25, then the search would be futile. The IP address 66.249.72.25, which was used to share the links to Western_F

In pouring out the message of the gospel, I have made you a model of faith for all the Gentiles” I love this verse. It makes me smile every time I hear it. It makes me rejoice in the joy that Paul and Peter and the rest of the early church enjoyed in the truth of the gospel. That’s how you should read it. Theologically. Grace is a mystery. It is a God who has done all of this. There is no way to fully explain this. Maybe it would be good to read James 1, or Romans 1, or Romans 9, or Romans 5 to get the full impact. I’ll just briefly touch on it here. In the Bible God is not a rule enforcer or a police officer. God is an encourager. The word “grace” means to have been entreated or prodded to the right way, to the right path. God does not have to beg, coerce, or bribe us to get us to heaven. God loves us even when we’re behaving terribly. God does not want to see us beaten, bruised, or broken on the cross. God wants us to be
