,[Ocular manifestations of the juvenile diabetics]. Ocular manifestations of diabetic eye disease were studied in 81 juvenile diabetics and the results are as follows. 1. In ocular examination, diabetic retinopathy was found in 52 eyes (24%) and marked retinopathy in 10 eyes (4.5%). 2. In fundus oculi examination, exudative retinal detachment was found in 8 eyes (3.6%). 3. In ocular examination for the diabetes mellitus, 18 eyes (8.3%) were found to have diabetic maculopathy. There is a relationship between the duration of the diabetes and the severity of diabetic retinopathy and retinopathy of prematurity. Diabetic retinopathy tended to be detected earlier in eyes with better glycemic control. Diabetic retinopathy was detected at higher levels in eyes with the worse visual acuity. In contrast, incidence of retinopathy of prematurity was not observed in these eyes. 4. In 78 eyes with diabetic retinopathy, the macular edema was investigated. Using fluorescein fundus angiography, it was seen that the central retinal vein was occluded in 11 eyes (14%) and that venular leakage was found in 8 eyes (11%). In the method of ocular fundus fluorescein angiography, the lesions of the retinal capillary were too difficult to be diagnosed clearly. 5. In the treatment of diabetic retinopathy, intraocular injection of the corticosteroids was tried in 14 eyes with diabetic maculopathy; it was ineffective in 3 cases.
