Nope, software. I have a cracked version of Photoshop actually because I have a "cracked" version of the OS X version, and a pirated (no, it's not pirated. Look it up) version of Photoshop. I didn't actually have any trouble finding anything as long as I was working on a PC with Windows, or a Mac running 10.4.11. The older versions of Photoshop do not work on that newer. I'm not actually sure why this isn't cracked -- I think that the version of Photoshop I have is pirated -- but that might be a question for a different forum. This crack is not a cracked version of Photoshop. The license has a difference. It's easier to answer your question if you stick with the appropriate terms. What's the difference? That's the original poster's question. If you don't know the difference between a cracked and a pirated version of Photoshop you have the most appropriate questions. If you want to, you can expect to see his new bike from Ducati at Pikes Peak International Raceway before the end of the summer. The Bologna based manufacturer will be testing their machines on the track a few times in June. Casey has been testing Ducati since 2011, and they've already recorded the best time of 5:23.9 set by Andrea Dovizioso at Pikes Peak last year. The goal this year is to break the record, and Casey says he's already been working on perfecting the bike all season. "We had a lot of stress on it from the beginning. I think that the stress didn't stop and we had a really good time that's for sure," Casey told Autosport. "It's good to show the potential of the bike. We can push harder. We can carry more speed and we can get to the top faster. We can bring the thing up to the speed limit and try to go beyond that. We can take a left turn up the mountain." The goal for Ducati is to be the first factory-backed effort, but it's far from automatic, as bikes from privateer teams have been adding up some impressive times on a circuit that's not the least bit favorable for riders. "We're definitely planning to go for a bike win. I think that

This works fine, if there are no NaN values in the trainX/trainY data. But when there are NaN values, some of the folds are getting "NaN" as the optimal values, when they should be otherwise. For example, one of the folds (fold 5) is reporting: [{u'param_0': np.nan, u'param_1': np.nan, u'param_2': np.nan,... u'param_17': np.nan, u'score': 0.48}, {u'param_0': np.nan, u'param_1': np.nan, u'param_2': np.nan,... u'param_17': np.nan, u'score': 0.48}] Note: the letter u is used for uppercase text, since I'm running Python 2.7.
