You can change the attributes of your weapons to create a variety of combo effects. -Equipable Armor You can wear 8 types of armor at a time. You can change the attributes of your armor to receive various effects. -Equipable Spells You can equip 6 types of spells at a time. You can change the attributes of your spells to easily create various combo effects. ■ Possibility of Rework and Improvement The development team plans to establish a user-friendly system and rework the game by analyzing the number of times certain commands are used by players. The development team is constantly reworking the system, following the feedback of the players.69th World Science Fiction Convention Welcome to The Convention Administrative Team (CAT) website! Much of what is on the site is of interest to the convention staff only, however we have provided convenient links to various items of interest to attendees. If you find this website useful, we would like to encourage you to send us any feedback using this link. The CAT's mission is to help the Worldcon's Executive Board administer the convention with a high degree of efficiency and to provide the attendees with a pleasant experience as well as to keep the Convention running smoothly for our Guest Professionals and volunteers. The team is always seeking new ways to enhance the experience and we would welcome your suggestions!
