Based on that number input they select one of the items in the list that they want to match the number to. Is there a way to have google sheets read the entered data back into the sheet, so I can make a new row for each number that matches one of the items in the list? I can't see a way to reference the form data in the sheet. Link for the spreadsheet is here: A: Assuming: Form looks like this Code: function myFunction() { var ss = SpreadsheetApp.getActiveSpreadsheet(); var s = ss.getSheetByName('Other sheet'); var data = s.getRange('E6').getValue(); var times = s.getRange('F6').getValue(); var equates = s.getRange('B6:B').getValues(); var f = ss.getFormulaE6(); var vals = f.matches.getValues(); var output = new Array

Inside you will find a two-page assembly manual, a detailed manufacturer's build sheet, three-dimensional plans for both a small tractor and small tractor chassis, both well-written for the novice or more experienced builder, and Lowe Brothers® complete instructions for use with standard scratch-built small engine plans on CD-ROM. Included in the kit are a collection of eight quarter-scale yellow pine framing pieces to support and hold up the Lowe Brothers® Small Engine Building Kit (Model A-029). Each sheet of framing, when placed on the flat work surface, conceals the upper left and upper right corners of the wallboard and the lower left and lower right corners of the wallboard to create a larger, 8 x 8 foot work area. The construction of the frames is straightforward and easy to assemble. Each framing sheet includes four L-shaped one-inch
