When the heroine of the film, Bharati Balan, was in the audience of the film, she had a cup of water in her handbag. The hero, Shahid Kapoor, while having his meal, saw her in this state and shot her dead. He also tried to kill the young girl Mehru (Suhasini Mulay) in the hospital, who is the daughter of the film's hero.Â .KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Six years ago, Kansas City was offering a $2 million reward for the return of a 17-year-old boy and his friend. Now, the city is offering a nearly $14 million reward, with a new person of interest. On Nov. 22, 2004, Shawn Ancrum and Jordan Wrenn were reported missing. Wrenn, who was 14, had been missing since Dec. 10. Ancrum, who was 17 at the time, disappeared on Christmas Eve. He was later found stabbed to death in a field near Blue Springs. Last week, Kansas City police announced the arrest of a 14-year-old boy in the case. Robert "Robby" Kyle Spencer III is charged with first-degree murder in the death of Ancrum. Spencer also is charged with attempted first-degree murder for a shooting the same day as Ancrum's killing. Now the city's reward fund is ready to be distributed. "The purpose of a reward is to encourage individuals with knowledge about a crime to come forward and help law enforcement solve it," Tim Grisar, a spokesman for the city, told 41 Action News. Since the reward was announced, three new individuals have been linked to the case, but their motives still are unknown. "It's been six years since this happened and a lot has come out of it, and I have never forgotten the Ancrum family," Grisar said. "And our family here has never forgotten the Wrenn family, and we will continue to do what we can to help them." The city's reward for information in the case has grown from $2 million to nearly $14 million because of a donation by Intermountain Health Care and the Sports Legacy Fund. Jirayut "Jay" Vensam, the 14-year-old who police say killed Ancrum, and Corey Arnold, 15, have been arrested and charged in the
