Disturbing Video Shows ISIS Fighters Threatening New York Cop With Death On The Streets New York, August 1 - A disturbing video obtained by the New York Daily News shows two Islamic State fighters lacing their threats with American expletives and drawing menacing pictures of an NYPD officer on a paper plate as they taunt the American police. The video shows the men, covered from head to toe in black, pointing their guns at the camera - and at an NYPD officer - as they warn New York police officers to "be careful what you get involved in here." The video was originally posted to a Facebook page called "ISIS Anwar A.," which refers to the man behind the video, who goes by Abu Anwar al-Amriki. That page has been taken down, though the video was embedded in a post on Twitter. The NYPD is keen to add Anwar to their counterterrorism squad but he has not been charged with a crime. An NYPD spokesperson told Fox News "We're aware of the video. The NYPD routinely investigates and prosecutes people accused of terrorism. Any associates who are attempting to radicalize and recruit those traveling to the country would be thoroughly investigated." The NYPD would not explain the extent of the investigation into Anwar's activity. New York City Mayor Bill de Blasio, a Democratic mayoral candidate, has responded saying "we will never tolerate any acts of violence against our police officers. We are working to discover the extent of the threat and to respond appropriately. In the meantime, all of the city's resources will be devoted to addressing this threat.". Such findings underscore that preclinical studies with selective COX-2 inhibitors are pertinent to further investigate on the impact of COX-2 inhibition on early inflammation and clinical recovery.
