I want to wait until this function is done and then go to the next task. const setOutcome = (data: any) => { return data .zipmap(data => (data.progress === 1? data.http_code === 200 : data.http_code a.key === b.key) .filter(x => x.key === data.key); }; This is my function to check some data. Now how can I go to the next task after this function returns? A: You can use promises to handle that: const setOutcome = (data: any) => { return new Promise((resolve, reject) => { const {http_code, progress} = data;
