I have a date string like String date = "9,15,0"; I want to convert it to date type in Elasticsearch. But I couldn't able to convert using date parse api. How can I convert it? A: Try this to parse the date: import java.text.DateFormat; import java.text.ParseException; import java.text.SimpleDateFormat; import java.util.Date; Date date = null; try { date = new SimpleDateFormat("MM.dd.yyyy").parse(date); } catch (ParseException e) { e.printStackTrace(); } This will get you a Date object from your String. If you are using Java 8 you can use LocalDate object from Java 8's Date API to get a modern API. [Urinary cathepsin D and lipoprotein(a) as indicators of the degree of atherogenesis in patients with coronary heart disease]. In the article the results of examination of the authors' own patients are quoted, who were diagnosed as patients with an obturation of coronary arteries, caused by hyperlipoproteinemia and ischemic heart disease. Two enzyme levels, namely cathepsin D, and the level of Lp(a) were measured in the urine. In the authors' own investigation of 62 patients was established, that urine cathepsin D level in the group of patients with a c6a93da74d
