First of all, it's important to know if your PC is infected with a virus. If you don't want to restart your computer, try to run a scan to find out if you have a virus. It will tell you if you have a virus or not and in the case that it finds a virus, you can follow the steps below to fix the activation.dll problem. To scan your computer for viruses, you can download the free AVG PC Tune-Up (Free) Kaspersky Internet Security (Free) If you are infected with a virus, the problem is even worse than before because you need to fix the virus. Although it's a good idea to fix the virus in the future, once you downloaded the activation.dll file you can fix the problem using the steps below:

Download a System Repair or 'Just DLL' program from any computer store or search in Google Install the program and boot your computer Select 'Scan for Malware' Keep Booting your PC I use Windows 8.1 and i install FIFA 2014 from Steam for windows but when I play the game i dont hear any sound. I try to turn up the volume on my speakers but there is no way. I delete the FIFA 14 game from my computer and install again, but i still dont hear any sounds. What should I do? You can also try to update DirectX. If you are running Windows 7 or Windows 8 you may have to locate the Windows Store. Make sure you are signed in to your Microsoft account or you may not be able to locate the store. Go to Settings and open the Store. After opening the Store, look for updates and make sure you are downloading them for all of your devices. Click on the update button and then search for DirectX. If you don't see the update, or if you are on Windows 8, you may need to open up the Windows Store app. In the app, search for "DirectX" and click on the Update option. You may also need to update the software on other devices.
