formats is easy. ok..i tried the 18.x.1803 stuff.no change and the old stuff i was using (with the mac app store version) and all of them had the exact same issue. even if i logged out of the app store. i had to install my original file to do the conversion instead. i installed the free version first and then the pro version. i tried to re-add the pro version as my default converter in preferences but nothing. i tried the work around link that you provided but i can't seem to get past the " help_update_dvd page. i got about 3/4 of the way through the update dvd process and it got to the point where it was creating the update software file and in the white window i could see the message "update of software is successful". then it just stopped. 5ec8ef588b
