The current game flow is working great for me. The "turn 1" is in place, so we're looking good. Bugs arent super apparent in the gameplay as this is a very early game. However, people are reporting some graphical bugs, see thread here http://discussions.dice.com/forumdisplay.php/96-Battlefield-Epic-Battle-Simulator-Beta-Playable-in-Javascript-Viewer-/page-2 Even with a few bugs in the game, it still looks great. There is a lot of work still going into it, but EBF promises to be an amazing game. We've worked with dozens of companies to make this happen, and with your help this will be the best game we can create.

https://twitter.com/EpicBattleSimulator/status/861137932647671745 While the game might be new, the developers of this game have previously created the popular Epic Battle series on PC. Since that time, this has become quite popular, and has even given birth to an exciting battle saga on the PC. The game will be published in the App Store and Google Play store, and is expected to go live to the general public from next month. Epic Battle Simulator 2 developer is most likely looking to release the game on the App Store and Google Play store as soon as possible. The developer is also aiming to make the game available for the Android platform, although this has not been confirmed as of yet. Ultimate Epic Battle Simulator (Beta 0.2) Demo

Ultimate Epic Battle Simulator 2 has been completely redesigned to work in full 1080p with stuttering/jittering fixed in all other modes. An overhaul of our navi system has also been done along with some other minor changes. We have also been updating our rendering system with anti-aliasing, anisotropic filtering, and shadow mapping. The navi system can be placed in a number of ways from a panel down to hard coded in a hex file. The more traditional method is using a sprite sheet. There is also a third option; a saber system. Our saber system allows for multiple sabers of different styles to be generated and the saber can be sold, bartered, bequeathed, bought, traded, etc. Currently, sabers are not generated automatically but can be bought and sold from the main store. We have also updated the UI to match UEBS2. Here comes Ultimate Epic Battle Simulator, the ultimate battle simulator! Create eye-watering battles with hundreds of thousands, and even millions of characters on screen! Jump into multiple story and player driven campaigns or make your own and share them with your friends! Sandbox mode will also return, with infinite army sizes and far greater flexibility than ever. FPS invasion will also be returning, where you play through the eyes of a soldier fighting off hordes of zombies in first person. Lets not ignore the elephant in the room! UEBS features revolutionary new crowd rendering and AI technology which uses pure GPU POWER to bring nation size battles to life! UEBS2 handles 100 times more characters on screen than its predecessor, and in far greater detail and quality. Details were not ignored, every individual has highly advanced decision making and animation, all while working together for a greater goal. We are also working hard on our own mass GPU physics engine. Our hope is to bring physics to a scale never before seen, which may allow thousands of ragdolls, and millions of physics based objects. Keep in mind, our physics engine is in very early development so we cant make any guarantees. 5ec8ef588b
