FPS Creator It is a powerful, free tool that produces in game graphics using meshes and textures. Users can do everything from moving simple object to making complex full body models and then uploading them directly into the games industry's favourite game engines such as Unreal, CryEngine, and id Software's own Rage. With FPS Creator X users can make pre-rendered movies, art, textures, gear, objects, armor and weapons for use in games, films, and other media. The tool provides a way to get the community's creative ideas into the game without having to get a development contract with a publisher or engine house, as with traditional outsourcing methods. Find out more about the product or download a demo version on the site. Now, for the interesting video from the creators, I think it's great that they decided to make this and show their product off. Game creators are some of the hardest people to find in the world, and to find one that makes something as cool as this is awesome. Head over to the video link in the description for some more information. The site that is covered in the video is here: http://www.thegamecreators.net/ and we will have a link below for you to head over to check out the video. Please let us know what you think about this cool tool. Well, there we go for another interesting find in FPSC models. Once again we were able to find some more that are looking great for users of the CSG, and as always, when it comes to Valve's games we will find your creation being used. I wouldn't be surprised if we see some other games starting to use it down the road.

Speed up modeling of any of your favorite characters or creatures. FPS Creator's Native Character Modeling System will allow you to quickly create high-quality character models. Each character model automatically updates with UVs (unwrapping). You can even adjust the vertices of characters with a selection of customization options. Create as many character models as you want with just a few clicks! Native Character Modeling System: The Native Character Modeling System in Unreal Engine 4 is one of the most powerful features available. From start to finish, the system will import, apply UVs, create a mesh from the imported map, adjust and add the modeling modifiers you want to use, and create a 3D model. Take advantage of all the options available in the Native Character Modeling System, including skeletal animations, modifiers, importing and exporting data, adding hands, beards, and more. There are 3 different types of characters covered: Human, Alien, or a mixture of human and alien, such as Alien and Human. The Native Character Modeling System is a unique feature of Unreal Engine 4 that allows you to quickly create high quality character models, without having to learn a whole new modeling software. You can create an unlimited number of different models from the same model source file. The best part? Even though each character is unique, they are all made from a single mesh. You can change the material and animation for each character with the in-built feature, and create as many characters as you want from a single source file. The Native Character Modeling System also allows you to create and customize a mesh and rig, with the help of the Unreal development interface, which also supports importing textures and materials from various sources. Finally, you can export and view your characters in Unreal Editor, which is a great way to view your character creations and modify them. 5ec8ef588b
