the “dream team” is made up of the main human characters from the ice age franchise, including scrat, the protagonist of the first two films in the series, and his fellow waddles, an elephant, and a saber-toothed cat named sid. in addition to the ice age characters, this incarnation of the dream team includes a squirrel, a dog, a bear, a rabbit, and a dinosaur. [9] the characters from the ice age family are similar to the ones in the original movies.

the dream team also contains characters from the peanuts television specials, including snoopy, charlie brown, and peppermint patty. [10] the story begins when scrat accidentally activates a nearby alien ship. instead of being taken to space, however, scrat and his acorn are propelled into the interstellar void. there, scrat accidentally starts an asteroid collision with earth, which then heads towards earth's orbit. the film's protagonist is scrat, a weasel in the first film who is named after a rodent who accidentally caused a russian explosion during the cold war. his past is as a rat who, in order to find a new home, swallows an acorn to get him out of trouble. he then breaks free from the acorn and floats into the world. he decides to return to it after he finds a ball of dung. he then encounters a talking walnut, who explains to him that he is an embarrassment to his family. the walnut then insults scrat, and he runs away. he then meets the other characters in the film; namely, the walnut's family, who are living in a tree. while scrat is trying to find the acorn, he encounters the squirrel, a dog, and a bear. the dog then steals scrat's acorn, and the bear tries to eat him. 5ec8ef588b
