Color Note For Windows 10

You can think of it as a modern, minimalist notepad app for Windows. With its minimalistic approach, ColorNote allows you to create notes (and time-based notes) with a single tap. For those who are looking for a more professional notepad app, ColorNote comes in at number 2 on this list. With its fairly solid set of features, ColorNote comes in at number 2 overall. Download ($0.99) ColorNote allows you to keep a track of all your notes - even the ones you forgot to attach to an email, upload or anything - so whenever you finish a task, you can quickly add a note to your to-do list. It also provides you with a handy calendar that can be used to connect notes to dates so that you can easily re-order your ideas. Not only that, but you can use the notes to create links, use your device's voice recorder, or even to generate PDF files. But you can do much more than that, including starting new projects with predefined templates, export your notes to a text file, archive all your notes, add a nice text background and even customize the text colors and font size. This is a fantastic little app that I highly recommend. I've been using it for the past few days, and I think it's awesome! All the apps on this list were able to stand out from the crowd because of some sort of unique feature. However, with ColorNote, it's the simplicity that really makes the difference. With 3 categories to choose from, there's really no need for the app to have lots of features! If you're looking for a simple, easily maintainable way to keep track of all of your notes, links, ideas, projects, shopping lists...you can find it in this great little app. 5ec8ef588b
