As far as I know this is not possible, the best way is to use a cheat to make your building appear to be more than five floors high. However, as mentioned in the comments, this can cause security issues. It's really simple how it works. At the user level, I'm assuming you have three levels. First level with entrance as below Now you have, for example, several floors that have their own codes based on the user level. Now you want to show all floors depending on the user's level. Let's say you have five access levels.

Sims 4 More Floors Mod

March 1, 2017 - I want to create a mod to change the floor limit in the game (to currently 4 + 2 basement levels). This would be the ideal solution because I would have many floors that I would not need to build or upgrade. There is no such thing as a "floor" in the game, there are only rooms. The room is the part of the level that is off the floor. This means that the room is always higher than the level it is on. When creating a room (or a room with levels) I can't know how many floors there will be in the level where I create the room. dd2bc28256
