The two sides signed 12 memoranda of understanding (MoUs) covering a wide range of areas including youth empowerment, skill development, counter-terrorism, human trafficking, biodiversity and maritime cooperation. India and Cambodia signed seven MoUs in the areas of agriculture, natural resources, mineral cooperation, fisheries, ecology, skill development and youth empowerment. The two countries also signed a Memorandum of Understanding on Visa on Arrival and Visa on Arrival Electronic System. India said in a statement after the signing that this would help in making sure that a large number of South East Asian nationals are not turned away when seeking to enter India, as entry for most of them is contingent on obtaining a visa. On Indo-Cambodia ties, deputy external affairs minister G K Vasan had said, "We can go for many more MoUs with Cambodia. There is a range of things that the two countries need to formalise and we will take this into the future." Speaking to reporters after the meeting, Vasan said the main takeaway from the talks was the "success" of the trip of Prime Minister Narendra Modi to Cambodia in September 2014. "The outcomes of the Prime Minister's visit, I think, are unprecedented. I have not seen anything like this in the history of our engagement with Cambodia. In the last two years, everything that we would have hoped has taken place. It is a tribute to the friendship between the two countries," Vasan said. He said a lot of progress was made in agriculture and the infrastruc
